This is the first edition following our recent move and contains the last records of our old premises. Twice as much space and Brian is talking about increasing the role: onwards and upwards eh! April, was a strange saw one, missed one kind of month. I think we have managed to organise a back-up for when I don't make a meeting. However, if anyone would like to become a reporter for the magazine Pete R

I missed this session and have to thank Duncan Hutchinson for the pictures which only represent part of the display. I cannot identify the goblet but the bowl may be by Dave Muckle - or someone else has managed his finish quality! PR.

The AGM

Once again our committee managed to produce a succinct AGM and the accounts delivered by Brian were (almost) faultless. Although we were missing Dennis Wake (unavoidable work) and John Basford (unavoidable holiday) the committee agreed to a man to continue the good work for another year. Stan noted, with thanks, the contributions made by non committee members: Band-saw Alan who saves us a fortune in blades; John Burdett and Reece Carney who manage the recording of demos and the DVD library; Peter Ryles, who edits the magazine and Adrian Gregory, who gets it printed; Colin Shaughnessy, who audits the accounts; Deryck Cox, who helps John run the shop; John Basford who manages the wood supplies and store; Dennis Wake, who manages the maintenance of our machines. A special thank you was given to members who have made the supreme effort and bravely stepped forward to demonstrate their skills to the club; Dick Simpson; Nigel Coates; Randal Marr RPT and Mike Nightingale. The entire committee was unanimously re-elected for another year and a special ovation was proposed from the floor to thank them for their steadfastness and immense efforts in securing our new, improved premises. Table -top Turn-out 19TH April

This was an interesting table, with a huge response to Dave Muckle's call for a 'last night spectacular'. The table constantly changed during the AGM so there are multiple pictures!
